KHMER ROUGE

TIMES PAST BUT MEMORIES NOT LOST

This band, these friends, helped me grow into much of what I am today. It sucks when you know you only have a certain span of time to be around those people who have influenced you and become a part of you in there own way. Khmer created such a positive outlet for me that it is gonna be hard to pick up and start all over again. Thanks to everyone who has been nice and helped us along the way. Thanks to those who has been there for me when I needed you: .chris. write, billy 925 creswell hall the university of Ga Athens Ga 30609 shades of gray always linger, but pass with morning . these days will lurk around corners, flashing by in freakish moments, comfort grins slipped away, cold chest coughs and highway heat waves,. leaving molded memories.....to each member of khmer, i will always hold a time, an unforgettable gasp, i hold you true, xoxo christopher : 1320 n. delaware st. #511 indpls, in 46202

as i try ~~xxx~~ to explain my thoughts, all
want is to know
thoughts, and know myself. it's out my reach right now, but to be able to yoooo grab it is a dream the anticipation of the day when i can look at my life and be content if only for a while, if for a few minutes, then can smile at myself & know i went through all the

to reach that single
i will wait patiently.
alone i will cry, being alone is what i know appreciate what i do
in my life to only

what i did lose know strength can be
through anything,
also having a broken heart
lost hopes, unfulfilled sometimes strength
enough once you lose

the songs of makara
are songs of my sorrow paper cuts is about not meeting halfway, so much shared and to have it

so much try
hold now memories
beautiful
memories...

thanks

the best of em.
I won't tell ya
til tuesday but I tried winning
a winter swine
with two cold
hands. boy it's easier to dig wholes in the summer mud and to put fish when the mountains
are free & change
and buckets aren't
kicked yet. just no
fun times of stealin'
cherries when a
computer can do it
for ya, and wires
tickle like the bedbugs. remind me I never had a heart - can't communicate with
dead people
